"I joined the innoChange project because I was always interested in developing of new technological inventions. We heard some very interesting thoughts that would help me, if I was on a specific project right now. For now, I'm concentrating on my studies, but it was definitely very thought-provoking and I'm sure I'll improve myself on this topic. Thank you for allowing me to attend. I think I got into a very good group. There was a bit of tension at the beginning, but I am very happy to get to know my group peers because it was very motivating to work with them. I would definitely recommend to all my fellow students because it is a great opportunity for professional development and for network building as well. I consider it a very good opportunity for those who are actively involved, to involve students and we can learn directly from those whose vocations it is. I learned a lot in this session, things that will be important to me later in my work, for example, the tasks we have been given will be easy to put into practice in the future. I really liked that the whole training was practice oriented. Although a lot of individual work had to be done, the development of the obtained theoretical material facilitated the acquisition of the curriculum. "
